NEWS FROM THE DIOCESE

DIOCESAN SOCIAL JUSTICE COMMISSION

Sunday, June 19th - Twelfth Sunday in Ordinary Time

"The primary norm for determining the scope and limits of governmental intervention is the principle of subsidiarity" cited above. This principle states that, in order to protect basic justice, government should undertake only those initiatives which exceed the capacities of individuals or private groups acting independently. Government should not replace or destroy smaller communities and individual initiative. Rather it should help them contribute more effectively to social well-being and supplement their activity when the demands of justice exceed their capacities. This does not mean, however, that the government that governs least, governs best. Rather it defines good government intervention as that which truly "helps" other social groups contribute to the common good by directing, urging, restraining, and regulating economic activity as the occasion requires and necessity demand. Economic Justice for All, #124 www.usccb.org (From www.rapidcitydiocse.org/family-life-ministries-social-jusctice/social-justice-commission)
